About Us

Saffron, known as red gold, is a unique and exclusive spice that can give you incredible taste experiences. This herbal gold also has unbelievable effects on hair and skin, and is undeniably effective in treating many diseases. The fantastic aroma of saffron can take you to a dreamland. Its red color has the potential to compete with the red color of the sunset and win. Not having the same bitterness, the saffron taste is similar to a well-prepared coffee.

We aim to improve your body, hair, and skin health while giving your cuisine the dreamiest taste with our saffron.

We Care...

We are accountable for all stages of processing our products and are eagerly waiting for your suggestions/criticism.

The quality and fineness (karat) of our product are tested in internationally approved laboratories. Checking all of these test results is possible on our website at www.qof-food.com. Checking our ISOs for packaging and exportation is also possible there. These ISOs are divided into four different ISOs, including ISO9001 which sets out the criteria for a quality management system, ISO 14001 is for the requirements of clean and isolated environment, ISO 22000 sets the requirements for food safety, and ISO 45001 is an international standard for health and safety at work developed.

The quality test is held in every single shipment prepared for export. Queen of Flowers has proudly aced all these tests during its activity period.

The quality of the Queen of Flowers' products is guaranteed according to the test results. We also do the test ourselves for every shipment.

We assert that our saffron can add a luxurious aroma, color, and taste to your life.

The process of harvesting, and separating the stigmas from the flowers is performed manually. Then there is a resifting process carefully done by hand and a packaging phase that occurs in an isolated room.

All these phases are done and monitored step by step in the Ghaaneh factory. If our customers want to visit the Ghaaneh factory, it is free for them; we just want them to observe our safety precautions.

Health & Beauty Benefits

The benefits of saffron are uncountable. Experts believe that by having at least 30 mg of saffron per day, you will achieve all its health benefits.

Anti-depression and anti-cancer, along with including factors that have positive effects on losing weight and reducing heart disease are some well-known benefits of the spice.

Saffron is a source of antioxidants. The main saffron antioxidants are in four materials: Crocetin, Crocin, Safranal, and Kaempferol. These antioxidants help neutralize harmful free radicals which are responsible for cancer.

Saffron could improve the health of hair and skin, as it is used to make different types of hair and skin masks. You have the option to make these masks yourself. In addition, saffron has a great demand in the cosmetic industry due to its color and aroma.

So, make-up and perfume producers are constant customers of the spice, competing fiercely to achieve the best quality of saffron.
